

LESSON-6

CHRISTMAS WITH A DIFFERENCE

SUMMARY:

This lesson is an adaptation from an episode in “Little woman” a series by Louisa May Alcott. Here four sisters, Meg, Jo Beth and Anny woke up on Christmas morning and eagerly dug for their Christmas present. Their mother had given each of them a book about values of a righteous life.

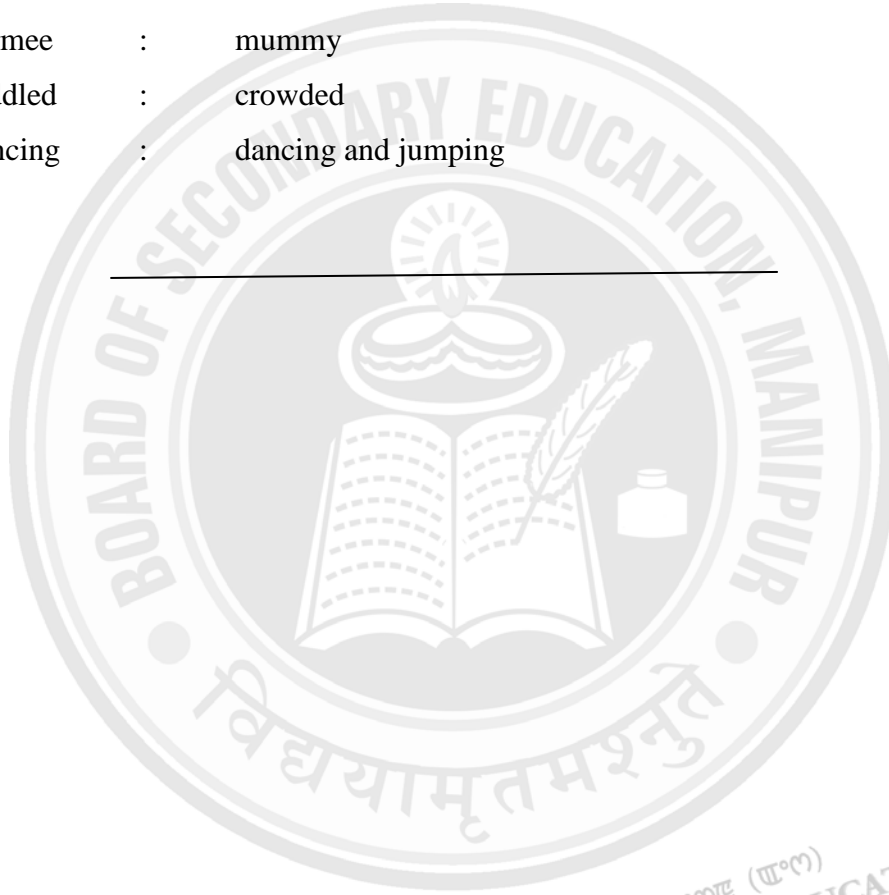

The girls got ready and went down for breakfast. Hannah was downstairs preparing their Christmas morning breakfast. When the girls asked for their mother, Hannah told them that she had gone to meet a poor old lady who had six hungry children and nothing for Christmas.

Mother came back soon and told them the plight of the poor family. She also asked if the kids would give up their Christmas breakfast and give it to the poor family. The kids agreed and the all went to the poor family with food and other Christmas gifts. The girls and their mother had a very sweet memorable Christmas with the poor family. When they reached home the girls each gave their mother their Christmas presents with a lot of love and bonding.
